OFFICE & FACILITY

Invites you to attend a seminar:

"Functional Office 2010"

Effective, Inspiring and Comfortable

- How to conduct a proper briefing
- How to design an innovative and inspiring office
- How important is the role of space programming and space planning
- How to work cohesively with a company's Steering Committee

Attend one in a series of seminars organized throughout Poland by the publisher of the monthly magazine "Office & Facility." Learn how to create an effective, comfortable and inspiring office and significantly increase the rate of employee productivity of your company/client.

The seminars will be led by acknowledged specialists in the field of office design, including the program's main speaker architect and designer Przemyslaw Stopa, as well as other experienced office and facility managers in Poland. On the first day of the two-day program held in Warsaw, the seminar will be led by renowned architect and consultant from Great Britain Frank Duffy.

This is also a great opportunity to network with other office and facility and A&D professionals, including HR directors, office managers, architects and designers, and representatives of manufacturers of office furniture and finishes.
