The enveloping sides of Lievore Altherr's Cila chair (or Arger cosset and protect). The shapely plastic shell comes in six colors (with optional cushion) or fully upholstered. Which to choose? space 339 swerve alert!

Parallelograms and fine lines carve a zigzag path through Lift, a performance seating fabric exceeding 100,000 double rubs. The kinetic pattern from CF Stinson blends post-industrial recycled nylon, cotton, rayon, and recycled polyester. Choose from seven colorways, most combining subtly mid-century hues. space 10-150

pleats, please

What's the buzz at Buzzi? Smocked pendants and sconces, for one. This being BuzziSpace, the light fixtures absorb sound as they illuminate—an ideal solution for open-plans spaces or wherever you need to dim the din. Martin Lesjak and Anastasia Su of 13&9 mined traditional sewing techniques for the series, which the company dubbed BuzziPleats in its usual naming convention. Upcycled PET felt is fashioned into lightweight circles reminiscent of an Elizabethan ruff, in three diameters ranging from 32 to 63 inches. space 10-111

Monday morning? Indeed! Allsteel's casual-cool Vicinity lounge chair, envisioned for office cafés, brings chilling to the workweek. You can comfortably slouch or sit upright on the low-slung seat, masterminded by Mitch Bakker of Michigan's Ida Design. Sitting on a criss-crossing tubular-steel base (offered in seven finishes), the plywood shell can be veneered or partially or fully upholstered. Round out the vignette with coordinating tables, stools, or stacking chairs. space 1120

Boundary-free offices require seating that can handle myriad needs. Toan Nguyen reconciles that dichotomy with his Dual lounge chair for Teknion's Studio TK. Molded in urethane foam, over steel, the organic profile and gently pitched back encourage relaxation while enabling effortless interaction. The duality idea extends to covers, as the shell and seat can sport contrasting shades of fabric. space 1044
